

REMARKS

In the Office Action dated December 22, 2004, the Abstract was objected to; and claims 1-40 were rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102 over U.S. Patent No. 6,771,639 (Holden).

The Abstract has been amended to address the objection raised against the Abstract.

Each of independent claims 1, 19, 33, 37, and 39 has been amended to distinguish over Holden.

With respect to claim 1, Holden does not disclose the following combination of elements:

- based on data contained in the call request, looking up information about the calling party;
- receiving the information about the calling party in response to looking up the information about the calling party; and
- providing the received information about the calling party in the call request.

With respect to claim 19, Holden does not disclose the following combination of elements:

- an interface to receive an invitation from a network device of a calling party over the data network to establish a call session, the invitation comprising a header portion and a body portion of the invitation; and
- a controller communicatively coupled to the interface, the controller to provide information regarding purchases of the calling party in the body portion of the invitation.

With respect to claim 33, Holden does not disclose the following combination of elements:

- look up calling party information based on data contained in the first call request; and
- generate a second call request to the second network entity, wherein the second call request contains the calling party information.

With respect to claim 37, Holden does not disclose the following combination of elements:

- look up information regarding purchases of a calling party in response to receiving the request; and

- provide the information regarding purchases of the calling party in the body portion of the request.

With respect to claim 39, Holden does not disclose the following combination of elements:

- storing information regarding purchases of a calling party in the Session Initiation Protocol message; and
- transmitting the Session Initiation Protocol message containing the information regarding purchases of the calling party to a presentation device.

Therefore, allowance of all claims is respectfully requested. The Commissioner is authorized to charge any additional fees and/or credit any overpayment to Deposit Account No. 20-1504 (NRT.0081US).

Respectfully submitted,
